Smart spaces at your fingertips

Making life easy
with a touch

PROCOMTM

Procom is a project that has risen from a world of personal pains and the desire to live in a smarter and much more controlled environment. Being able to fully adhere to the current smart automation era, we have decided to launch a range of products that do not need any specialized suite of elements to make it work. This realization was achieved when we performed months of market research and always found some limitation in the products being offered in the market currently. Therefore, instead of creating smart appliances, we decided to go universal in our pursuit to provide smart experience and worked on the root.

Add value to your lives

Smart Switch
